

LEADERSHIP IN CORPORATECOUNSEL

“ As soon as I came back from the program, I tried to expand the lessons to my leadership. We’ve now taken more than 40% of our costs out and step-changed our culture, which has required leadership through a lot of change management. ”

- General Counsel

HARVARD LAW SCHOOL
Executive Education

LEADERSHIP IN CORPORATE COUNSEL

Professor David Wilkins

Chair and Faculty member of LCC

APPLY ONLINE AT
execed.law.harvard.edu/lcc

Contact us with questions at:
617-496-4487 | ExecEd@law.harvard.edu

As a General Counsel, it takes more than dogged commitment to lead your team, create value for your clients, and build your career. We'll equip you with the perspectives, leadership skills, and frameworks to strategically align your priorities for maximum impact.

Through our highly interactive case-study method, contextualized specifically for lawyers in key in-house roles, we will develop your capabilities around building an effective legal department, creating a culture of innovation, having difficult conversations with boards, managing through crises and understanding the disruptive forces that are changing the global market for legal services.

Who should attend: General Counsel & Other Senior In-House Lawyers